PLANNING COMMITTEE

16 July 1992

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1990

1. PURPOSE OF REPORT

To propose that parts of Beccall Road, Lichfield Road, Anchorage Road and Mulroy Road be included in the Sutton Coldfield (Town Centre) Conservation Area.

To propose that Nos. 4 and 6 Tudor Hill be included in Sutton Coldfield (Town Centre) Conservation Area.

2. BACKGROUND

2.1 Sutton Coldfield Conservation Area was designated in 1973 by the Conservation Act 1969. It now covers what is regarded as the historic core of Sutton Coldfield and an area of mixed development to the west of the town centre.

2.2 There have been representations by the Sutton Coldfield Civic Society and other amenity groups that the Conservation Area boundary should be extended to the north to include Anchorage Road and parts of Lichfield and Mulroy Roads. Development pressure in recent years has increased concern for the preservation of the character of Sutton Coldfield as a whole and it is now felt that the area north of the town centre is in need of some protection.

2.3 At its meeting on 14 November 1991, the Planning Committee resolved that the boundary of the Sutton Coldfield Conservation Area should be reviewed and that an appropriate public participation exercise should be undertaken. The Committee also resolved that Nos. 4 and 6 Tudor Hill should be included within any amended boundary to the Conservation Area. The review was carried out, public opinion within the proposed new boundaries sought and a report proposing an extension to Sutton Coldfield Conservation Area presented to the Committee in March this year. A number of objections were however raised with regard to the suggested new boundary and the report deferred to allow officers to reconsider their advice.

decided, allowing at once for a more logical and defensible railway bridge between the Town Centre Conservation Area and the previously proposed extension.

3. CHARACTER

3.1 The proposed Conservation Area is an area of mixed development most of which was built between the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

3.2 Lichfield Road is the former turnpike route from Birmingham to Lichfield and is still a major thoroughfare. Most of the buildings included in the section proposed for Conservation Area designation are of the 20th. Among these are Wellington Terrace a row of mid-20th century houses and a number of semi-detached and detached houses set in large and well-established gardens.

3.3 On the east side of Lichfield Road above the town centre lie a number of buildings belonging to an earlier phase of development. These include the Grade II* listed Moat House c.1680 and the front block of Bishop Vesey Grammar School c.1750 and Grade II listed houses of the 18th and 19th centuries and a number of 19th century houses also listed Grade II.

3.4 Roswell Road was developed in two stages. Nos. 1-27 were built between 1900 and 1914 and present a mix of neo-vernacular detailing. They are set behind well-established front gardens with relatively complete boundary walls. These dwellings are within the proposed Conservation Area. Nos. 29-47 were built between 1930 and 1932, semi-detached and behind long front gardens.

3.5 Anchorage Road was laid out in the 1880's. The buildings included in the proposed Conservation Area are mostly of the late 19th century and consist of substantial detached and semi-detached houses in a variety of designs and set in large mature gardens. Most are individually designed including Nos 5 and 7 ascribed to C E Bateman and Grade II listed.

3.6 Mulrov Road was laid out between 1905 and 1914 and most of the large houses built between the years are of the neo-vernacular style. Nos 1 and 3 are Grade II listed as are Nos 7 and 9. The houses on the road are set in mature and substantial gardens.

Anchorage Roads. There are a number of council-owned properties Nos. 1-27 Anchorage Road (excluding Nos. 19) Nos. 10-14 Anchorage Road and, on redevelopment, the heritage of Nos. 10 Anchorage Road and Nos. 79-83 Lichfield Road.

There are some alterations to buildings in the area, chiefly to Terrace, Lichfield Road, but do not detract from the character of the proposed Conservation Area to any significant degree.

4. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

4.1 Leaflets were distributed to all premises within the boundary of the Conservation Area extension originally proposed. These explained the reasons for the proposed designation, gave a summary of planning leaflet and asked to comment as were the local amenity groups and to respond. Responses were limited but favourable. In the main, only residents in the Tudor Hill area (still proposed for inclusion in these were chiefly concerned with the restrictions Conservation Area designation would place on opportunities for development. Of the councillors and amenity groups contacted, two groups, The Friends of Rectory Park and The Wyvern Residents Association, responded. They were in total agreement with the proposed designation.

5. OBSERVATIONS

5.1 Residents on Anchorage Road and Lichfield Road, while supporting the extension of the Conservation Area then proposed, expressed concern over projected road improvement schemes and the effect designation might have on these.

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDING AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1992

PROPOSED ANCHORAGE ROAD SUTTON COLDFIELD CONSERVATION AREA

Purpose of Report

To propose that parts of Boswell Road, Lichfield Road, Anchorage Road and Mulroy Road, Sutton Coldfield be designated a Conservation Area to be called Anchorage Road Conservation Area, as shown on the attached plan.

Background

Sutton Coldfield Conservation Area was designated in 1973 by the former Warwickshire County Council and extended in 1975 and again in 1980. It now covers what is regarded as the historic core of Sutton Coldfield and an area of mixed development to the west of the town centre. There have been representations by the Sutton Coldfield Civic Society and other amenity groups that the Conservation Area boundary should be extended to the north to include Anchorage Road and parts of Lichfield and Mulroy Road. Development pressure in the area north of the town centre is increasing and the character of Sutton Coldfield as a whole and it is now generally agreed that the area north of the town centre is in need of some protection.

At its meeting on 14 November 1991, the Planning Committee resolved that the boundaries of the existing Conservation Area should be reviewed and that an appropriate public participation exercise should be undertaken. The review was carried out, public opinion within the proposed new boundaries sought and a report proposing an extension to Sutton Coldfield Conservation Area presented to Committee in March this year. A number of objections were, however, raised with regard to the suggested new boundary and the report was deferred to allow Officers to reconsider their advice.

A further report was presented to Planning Committee on 16 July this year proposing the designation of a separate Conservation Area, Anchorage Road Conservation Area, north of Sutton Coldfield town centre. This proposal obviates the need for the tenuous link over the railway bridge between the town centre and the previously proposed extension and provides a more logical and defensible boundary. Members agreed to the proposal subject to an appropriate public participation exercise.

Public Participation

Leaflets were distributed to all premises within the boundary of the proposed conservation area. These leaflets explained the reasons for the proposed designation, gave a summary of planning law as it applies to conservation areas and brief details of the City's Grant Aid Scheme. Local Councillors were contacted in person to receive the leaflet and asked to comment as were the local amenity groups and the Victorian Society. A period of four weeks was given in which to respond.

There was no response from the Councillors and amenity groups contacted and only two responses to the leafletting within the area. This may in part have been due to the fact that a public participation exercise had been carried out earlier when it was proposed to designate the conservation area as an extension to the town centre conservation area. The response on this occasion was generally but largely favourable. Residents on Anchorage Road and Lichfield Road, whilst supporting the extension of the Conservation Area then proposed, expressed concern over projected road improvement schemes and the effect designation might have on these.

Objections

Two written objections to the proposed designation have been received in response to the public participation exercise.

1. Mr A F Evans, the leaseholder of Nos. 15 and 17 Anchorage Road objected on the main grounds

- i) that the buildings on Anchorage Road are not of sufficient quality for inclusion in a conservation area.

Through their architects, the Gould Singleton Partnership. They argue that land at the rear of their property which fronts Victoria Gate, a new development off the Lichfield Road, and should be included in the Conservation Area. Gould Singleton have submitted a plan in support of this which will be available at your meeting.

Proposal

of Boswell Road, Lichfield Road, Anchorage Road and Mulroy Road, Sutton Coldfield as shown on the attached plan.

Financial Implications

None have been identified other than those implicit in the designation of a conservation area.

Implications for Women, People with Disabilities, Black and Ethnic Minority People and Race Relations

No planning implications have been identified.

(iii)

Recommendations

1. That the Conservation Areas Advisory Committee endorse the proposals to designate parts of Boswell Road, Lichfield Road, Anchorage Road and Mulroy Road a Conservation Area as shown on the attached plan, to be called Anchorage Road Conservation Area.
2. That under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990, Planning Committee recommend the designation of parts of Boswell Road, Lichfield Road, Anchorage Road and Mulroy Road a Conservation Area to be called Anchorage Road Conservation Area.
